

ION ANNUAL REPORT 2019

CONNECTED WITH PROGRAMS AND PARTNERS

Connected educators with multiple resources and presenters through our web workshop series.

Held 5 roundtables throughout the state seeking input on the Quality Standards.

Trained 72 educators at Recharge Workshops, a one-day professional development event held in 6 locations throughout Idaho.

Worked with Craters of the Moon National Monument to bring nearly 50 students to celebrate the 50th anniversary of the Apollo 11 landing on the moon.

Created the Idaho Dimensions of Success (DoS) Certified Observation Team of 11 professionals. The team members are available to observe out-of-school program STEM activities, track the quality of STEM learning opportunities, and pinpoint strengths and weaknesses.

Connected over 200 out-of-school professionals at ION's 6th Annual Power Up Summit.

PUBLISHED IDAHO BUILDING BLOCKS FOR OUT-OF-SCHOOL TIME QUALITY

Published the Idaho Building Blocks for Out-of-School Time Quality- with several years of input from community stakeholders and programs, the building blocks have been published and are available online and in print along with extensive resources for each of the 8 building blocks as well as a Continuous Quality Improvement guide.

The Building Blocks serve to:

- Define what quality out-of-school time programming looks like;
- Serve as a foundation for decisions and practices in all settings and programs;
- Establish a set of standards that support the professionalization of the youth development field;
- Provide an on-going framework to advance the field and increase the quality of programs offered.

Mission

Ensure Idaho's youth have access to high quality out-of-school programs.
